This rowhouse, located in the center of the block, is two and a half stories high and two bays wide. It has a stone exterior wall. The door is located on the left side of the building, is a compound arched surmounted by a fan light. A marble stoop with wrought iron hand railings on each side leads to the doorway. The windows are double-hung with one-overone lights and arched stone lintels. A dormer window topped by a pointed pediment, is placed in the mansard roof, and a small rectangular window is applied on either side of the central compound arched window. A wooden cornice underlined by a row of dentils adorns the roof line.

Of special note is the decorative stain glass fan light surmounting the double rectangular window on the first floor.
